

The Sermon Hymn:

Doncaster, or Bethlehem, was composed by Samuel Wesley, and first published Sale's Psalms and Hymns, 1837, where it was set to a version of Psalm 31. Notice the unusual skip of a seventh at the end of the second phrase.

The Offertory Anthem:

Fellowes's original edition of 1924 contained alto and organ parts of his own composition since the Peterhouse part-books are lacking these parts. He later found the alto part at Durham, and in the 1930s revised the edition to include most of the original alto. This version has resulted in many derived editions, which have even gone so far as a recent translation into English (O Holy Banquet) of a Latin adaptation (O sacrum convivium), all attributed to Weelkes.

THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Offertory: Ad te, Dómine, levavi, Psalm 25:1–2 – Plainchant

UNTO thee O LORD, lift I up my soul; O my God; in thee have I trusted, let me not be confounded: neither let mine enemies triumph over me; for all they that look for thee shall not be ashamed.

The Offertory Anthem: Let thy merciful ears – Mudd

Let thy merciful ears, O Lord,
be open unto the prayers of thy humble servants;
And, that they may obtain their petitions,
make them to ask such things as shall please thee;
Thorough Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
